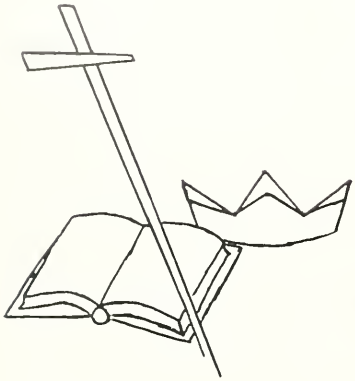
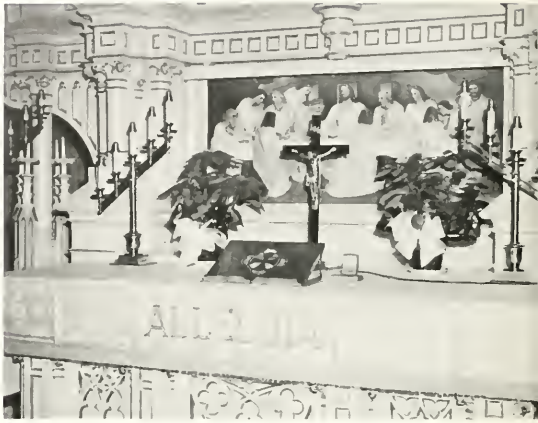
SPIRITUAL TRAINING...



All of us recognize the beautiful altar in Concordia Lutheran Church.



Mr H. Birkman assists R. Fahlsing as he delivers the morning devotions to the student body.

Together for the last time-we worshiped our Lord.

Miss D. Mertz provides musical accompaniment as we sing God's praises.

Students search the Scriptures to grow in spiritual knowledge.

Bi-weekly devotions at Concordia Lutheran Church served to bring us nearer to our God. These services were conducted by the co-operation of the Lutheran High School Association pastors.

The joy of Christmas was shared by all.

Dear Students:

During the school year 1960-1961 you have been permitted to live and learn together with fellow Christians. Under the blessings of God you have grown toward maturity in thinking and doing, always striving toward improving yourself.

From the learning experiences in and out of classrooms you have gained understandings and developed wholesome Christian attitudes.

By deepening your insights in Christ's principles you have learned to love your Savior more devoutly and this love should now motivate you toward greater and bigger undertakings in the future.

As Christian young people you have also learned to assume more responsibility in serving your church, your school, and your community.

As your principal, I shall continue to include all of you in my daily prayers also in years to come.

Your friend,

Herbert F. Birkman

The Religion Department

Pastor A. Oldsen aids A. Hartman in finding a suitable solution to one of life's problems.

Pastor A. Oldsen, M.A. freshman, sophomore,
senior religion
director of religious education director of public relations

In this department lies the purpose for our enrollment in Concordia. Students striving for eternal goals are strengthened in their faith and given inspiration. The courses help to further their aims and bring to reality their ideals. Freshmen study the New Testament; sophomores the Old Testament. Juniors study the history and founding of the Christian Church, while seniors concentrate on Christian living. The knowledge gained will provide a guide and goal for life as children of God.

Mr. R. Buls, M.A.

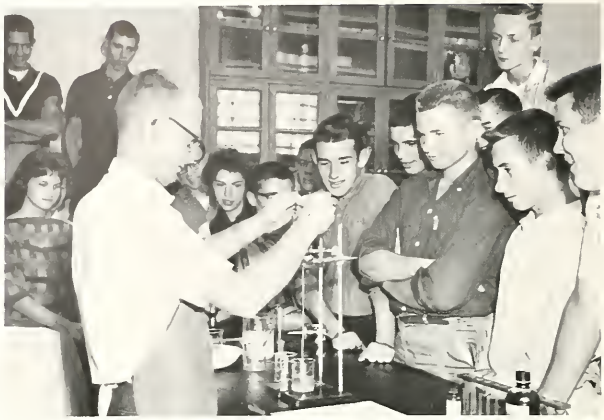
Mr. R. Buls assigns a Bible passage to J. Gugel.

The Science Department

Mr. J. Weinhold, B.S.
physics and chemistry
sponsor of the science club
sophomore class sponsor



Mr. J. Weinhold demonstrates the process of making nylon.

Through the science department, the students at Concordia become acquainted with God's creation. In these science courses, the students gain an interest in the world around them and achieve the ability to think more clearly and live more wisely as a result of what they have learned. They acquire a better understanding of what is being achieved in the field of science and a basic foundation for further study.

The Mathematics Department

Mr. D. Reinking takes special notice of individual problems.

Mr. D. Reinking, B.S.
Algebra I & II, business math.
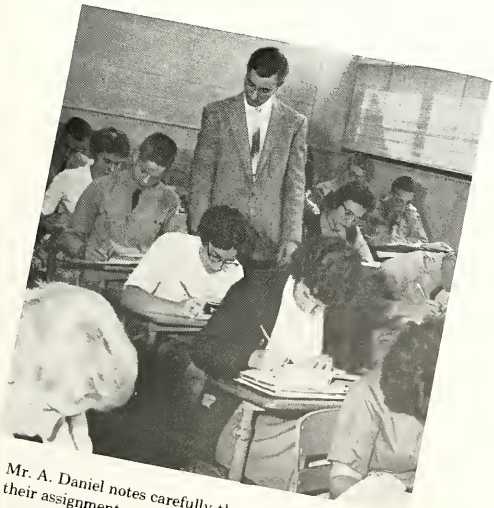
freshman class sponsor

This department is trying to develop in students the ability to think logically and to use reason in making decisions. The courses being offered in the college prep. line are Algebra I & II, plane geometry, solid geometry, and trigonometry. These subjects are the foundations for those people who are looking forward to careers in the fields of science and engineering. The two courses offered for those students on the general or business course of study are general math and one semester of business math. These courses review many of the basic concepts of mathematics which are applied not only in business, but also in daily life.



Mr. A. Daniel notes carefully the students' procedure on their assignment.

English department chairman and Vice-Presidnet of P.T.,A.

The English department, an invaluable asset, offers students the opportunity to further their knowledge of their language. Grammar, literature and composition are the basic ingredients of these courses. Whatever field, profession, or job pursued, the mastery of the English language will prove to be of immeasurable assistance in attaining the goal chosen by the student.

The Foreign Language Department

Rev. O. Marschke discusses a German quotation with J. Dent

Rev. O. Marschke
German I
Pastor at Martini
Lutheran Church

The foreign language department of Concordia includes the study of Latin and German. Both are two-year elective courses and present facts and figures of interest and importance about the Latin and German speaking peoples of the world. These courses not only bring about a better understanding of the foreign languages but also our own language. The study of these languages is relevant in building a firm foudation for future development in this field.

Mrs. S. Miller, A.B.

Cheer Bloc sponsor

The music department of Concordia is made up of two divisions--choral and instrumental. The choral division is composed of a girls' chorus and male ensemble, the Blazers. The Band and the Knights of Swing comprise the instrumental section. Our music department has proven to be the keynote of many school functions. Through interest and participation the members learn to work with others and to develop the personal satisfaction that is achieved through the appreciation of music.

Mr. H. Hendrickson strikes up the band.

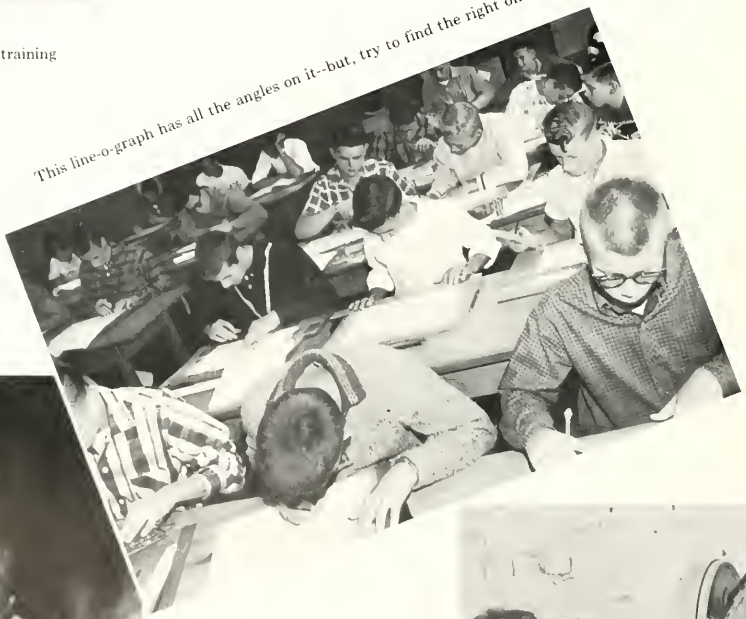
The Industrial Arts Department

Mr. H. Panning, B.S.
industrial arts, driver training
Luminarian sponsor
junior class sponsor

This department attempts to acquaint students with an industrialized America. In drafting the student learns to put down his ideas in a language that is universal to industry. In general shop the student gains experience with raw material, tools and machines. These courses supply sufficient background for a student to pursue a career in this field.



This line-o-graph has all the angles on it--but, try to find the right one!

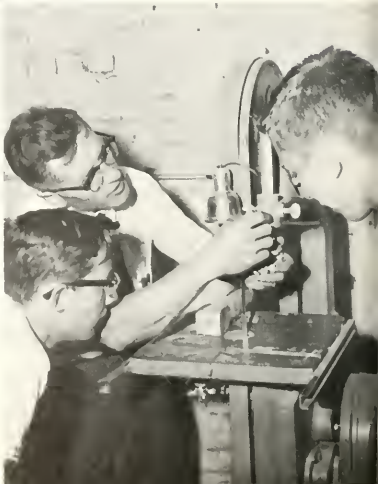
Mr. H. Panning is showing how to adjust the guard on the band saw.



The Business Department

The purpose of business training is to ready students for vocational work in typing, bookkeeping, and shorthand. Courses offered in the business department are very thorough in the sense that a student having graduated with a major in this department needs very little further training to hold a responsible office position. Or a student wishing to continue his education will find his training invaluable in college work and part-time employment.

Mrs. L. Roop explains to curious students the art of making jam.

The home economics department is a basic course for the future homemaker of tomorrow. This department offers the students the fundamentals of home management, food preparation, sewing skills, and home nursing. Through this course the students are prepared for a future in homemaking and given a substantial background to help the students meet successfully the problems of everyday living. Another phase of the department is the training in good grooming and aids in building a better personality. The home economics student is inspired with a determination to obtain a rich and rewarding goal--a Christian home.

ORGANIZATIONS

The Student Council

Pictured to the left are members of the Student Council.

The Student Council is the student governing body of Concordia. This organization is active in maintaining high standards for the students of Concordia. It helps to promote harmonious relations between teachers and students, and between the city of Fort Wayne and Concordia Lutheran High School. Through the Student Council home room representatives are able to develop leadership. Also, the student body's ideas can be readily considered and acted upon. The Student Council is an example of leaders in action.

The Junior Red Cross, one of the largest organizations at Concordia, is dedicated to helping the less fortunate. During the past year members have visited many of the sick and aged in the area, volunteered their services to the American Red Cross, made favors and treats for worthy causes, and carried on the annual can drive. The only requirement necessary is a willingness to serve others by spreading charity and good-will. Sponsored this year by Mrs. Knoblauch and Mrs. Roop the club truly gave examples of active Christianity.

This club helps stimulate interest in the science of living things. This is done through laboratory experiments and discussions beyond class study. The participants acquired further understanding through field trips and tours to various places of scientific interest. The group is sponsored by Mr. E. Meyer.

The Science Club

The purpose of the Science Club of Concordia is to create interest in and an understanding of science through education on an extracurricular basis. This is achieved through touring scientific places of interest and through participation in discussions of laboratory experiments. The sponsor is Mr. J. Weinhold.

The Librarians Club

The chief purpose of the Librarians Club is to improve the efficiency and supervision of the library by assisting Mrs. B. Meyer in her many duties. Related purposes are to arouse further enthusiasm in literature and encourage interests in the library profession. Shelving, mending, processing and checking out the books are but a few of the numerous responsibilities of the club members.

Pupil Views Performance Of "Five Dollar Bill"

By Janice Stauffer

The two performances of "The Five Dollar Bill" under the direction of Mr. John Sturmfels, were held Nov. 11th and 12th. This year marked the first production of a play with a serious nature. The success of audience reception depended almost entirely on the acting of the cast. The actors in this drama were outstanding in their portrayal of their own particular characters, and, consequent-y, held the attention of the audience.

Wayne Shrubsall played the le of the Major. His genuine ortrayal as the model father ypified his usual naturalness when playing the part of an elderly person.

Mrs. Moore, the Major's wife, played by Cindy Burhop, was the young attractive mother of Ralph and Don. Cindy's performance, especially in the one of the play, was of the f liked. His girl friend, Virginia, was played by Susie Niemeyer. Although Virginia was very pretty, she felt only secure wh she was with Don.

The Reserve Team

The reserve football team, under the direction of Mr. J. Mader, is a team of preparation. The training received will prove valuable to them when they join the varsity squad. Although the record of triumphs and defeats--one win, one tie, and three losses--does not appear ostentatious, the boys fought hard, gaining much experience to help them in their football futures.

The Freshmen Team

This year the Freshmen had a very promising season. The size and speed of the boys showed great prospects for the future. With the return of Mr. J. Massucii, the boys showed fine teamwork backed by fight and spirit.

Varsity Football

Sporting a record of eight wins and two losses, the Concordia Cadets concluded a successful season. This can be attributed to the spirit, fight, and teamwork displayed by the boys. Coach Bill Koch did a fine job with the boys, and everyone was very proud of their showing. The cheerleaders worked zealously and the worth of their labors was evidence when as many as four commercial busses were needed to transport Cadet fans to games. Such turn-outs indicate that football is becoming a more popular sport with the students, as well as with the adults. We feel that this season will be remembered in future years as one of Concordia's greatest.

The Varsity Basketball Team gave many thrilling performances to the fans this year. The team improved steadily throughout the season showing much teamwork and spirit. The boys fought their hardest even when things were not in their favor keeping Christian sportsmanship in the front of their minds.

"We're proud of our team."

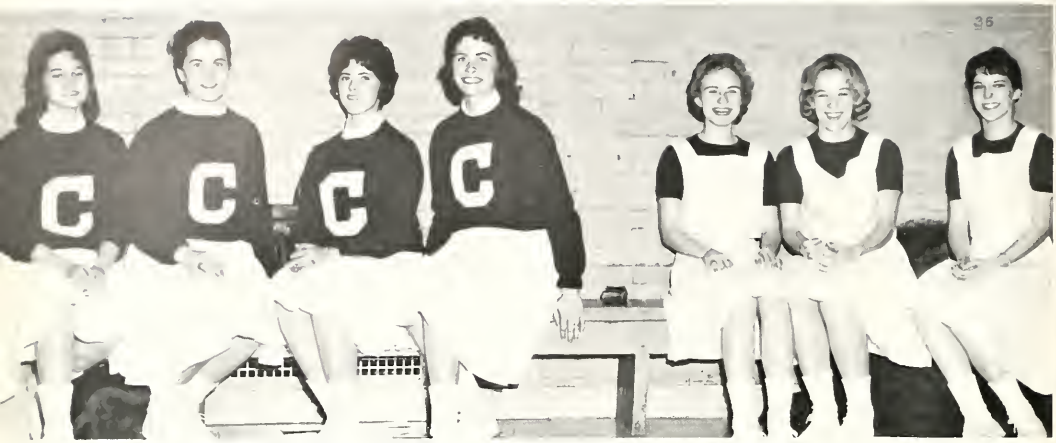
The Cheerleaders



L-R--Varsity--S. Baals, J. Ramming, J. Stauffer, J. Armstrong, Reserve--C. Lehman, A. Franz, B. Koester

Novel pep sessions backed with enthusiasm for victory; p.a. pep talks introducing the players to you; the entire student body which whole-heartedly backed the team and gave unity to cheering are the innovations which this year's cheerleaders contributed to the football and basketball games. We wish successful seasons to next year's Cadet teams.

Seldom so settled

"Wow, what a thriller!!!"

Reserves reach for high things--Varsity perhaps?

The Booster Club

The purpose of the Booster Club is to exercise its name--to back the team with high spirit and boost sportsmanship. This is done through the efforts of the entire student body. Working as a unit the Cadet fans conveyed enthusiasm, zeal, and eager interest to sportsmen and spectators alike.

United we stand, divided we fall.

The Lettermen's Club

The Lettermen's Club is composed of a group of boys who participated in the athletic program at Concordia thereby receiving a letter and membership in the club. The lettermen sponsor various socials, parties, and the annual selling of sweat shirts bearing the name and emblem of Concordia in order to defray costs of their letter jackets. The club is sponsored by Mr. W. Koch.

Above is pictured members of the Cross Country team.

Due to the fact that the yearbook must be completed before the spring sports are fully underway, the spring activities will be forecast rather than reviewed, and the information included is that which could be gathered before the last deadline.

Cross Country Team

This branch of track is a prolonged run of two miles over a prescribed and ungraded trail. Preparation for the sport is an all-year-round prerequisite. The Cross Country coach is Mr. J. Diemer.

Track Team

The track team, in a consistent effort to set new records and achieve new heights, provides the climaxing athletic events of the school year. The events--running, hurdling, vaulting, jumping and shot-putting involve much time and practice. The team is coached by Mr. W. Koch.

Tennis Team

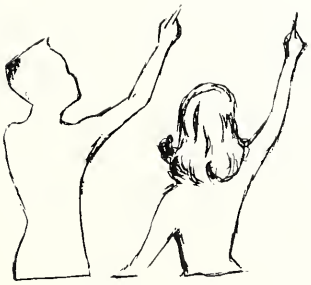
Under the direction of Mr. D. Reinking, the boys hope to have another successful season. The boys compete with other city and area schools and attempt to bring additional honors to Concordia.

Golf Team

Striving for "par", "holes-in-one", and winning scores is the goal of the golf team, another active spring sport. The year is ended with a golf tournament. The team is coached by Mr. J. Daniels.

Baseball Team

The batter scored, the specatators cheered, and the short but busy baseball season was again underway at Concordia. This year the team was coached by Mr. J. Mader.



Last year, for the third time, Concordia won the second Sportsmanship Trophy ever to be offered by the Fort Wayne Police Department. This entitled us to keep the coveted prize. The fine showing of the Concordia student body has acquired high esteem with Fort Wayne citizens and the surrounding community.

SENIORS

Pictured to the left are L-R--B. Aulick, Vice-President, S. Greiner, Secretary, R. Knipstein, Treasurer, J. Reinking, President, the senior class officers.

Progress . . .

This high stands on the plot of grounds labeled "S" on the plot plan below.

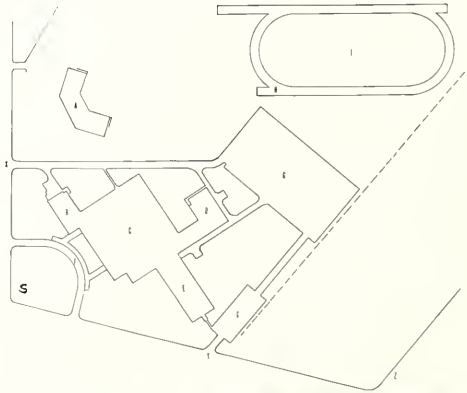
PLOT PLAN . . . CONCORDIA LUTHERAN HIGH SCHOOL

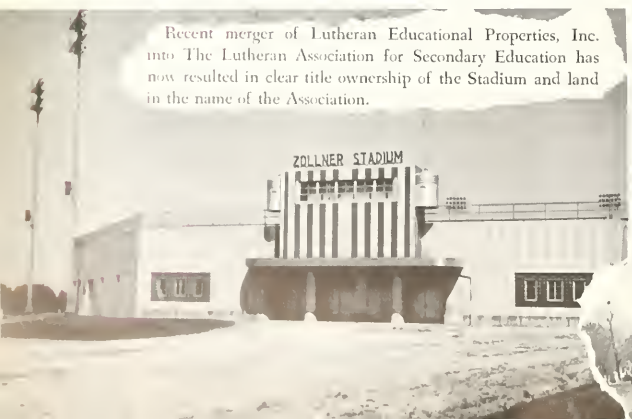
Spacious 23.17 Acre Site Provides Campus Setting

The generous acreage of the Zollner land site places the new school in a most attractive setting and affords unexcelled facilities for recreational, sports and cultural as well as educational outdoor activities.

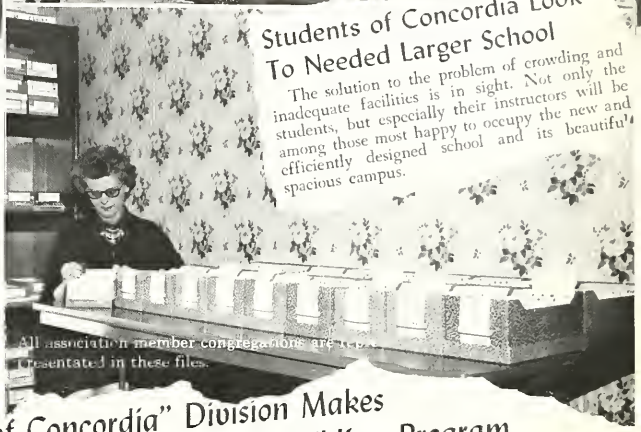
- A. PRESENT GRANDSTAND BUILDING
- B. CAFETERIA KITCHEN FACILITIES
- C. GYMN AUDITORIUM AND CLASSROOMS
- D. INDUSTRIAL ARTS AND MILITARY
- E EDUCATION WING
- F. ENTRANCE DRIVE
- G. PARKING AREAS
- H. PROPOSED TRACK
- I. FOOTBALL PRACTICE AND SPORTS FIELD
- X. ANTHONY BOULEVARD
- Y. SPRINGFIELD STREET
- Z CRESCENT AVENUE



Recent merger of Lutheran Educational Properties, Inc. into The Lutheran Association for Secondary Education has now resulted in clear title ownership of the Stadium and land in the name of the Association.



Mrs. McLaughlin records all payments to pledges for the new high school.



Students of Concordia Look To Needed Larger School

The solution to the problem of crowding and inadequate facilities is in sight. Not only the students, but especially their instructors will be among those most happy to occupy the new and efficiently designed school and its beautiful spacious campus.

All association member congregations are represented in these files.

Above to the right is the architects' first rendition of the proposed new Concordia Lutheran High School (shown in color on the inside covers). It helped to inspire more than 2,000 workers to solicit pledges for this new CONCORDIA. The goal was set at $750,000.00, (an impossible amount, many believed) but the minimum needed to build about one-third of this school. Final tabulations revealed that pledges of nearly a million dollars had been recorded. The final plans which were approved by the building committee do not quite agree with the rendition shown here.

When our present school was dedicated less than ten years ago, no one could possibly have imagined that bona fida FOR SALE signs would be standing on the lawn today; but that's PROGRESS--and we all like it.

"Friends of Concordia" Division Makes Sizable Contribution to New Building Program

Contributions from this division are nearing $150,000 with some additional pledges still to be received from certain industrial and commercial enterprises. Community interest and participation in this program is indicative of three very pertinent facts:

1. The high regard which the entire community has for Concordia High School and its fine student body.
2. The knowledge that industrial and commercial leaders are aware that school taxes could be almost 50% higher if it were not for the many parochial schools in this area.
3. The very fine understanding that the two parochial school systems are not in competition with the public school system—but that these systems augment a fine public school system.

The Library

Mrs. B. Meyer, M.S.
Librarian
Sponsor of the Library Club

R. Dunn is going to read a book?

Concordia's library has an important function in our school life: it provides students with material for research, enlightenment, and enjoyment. Mrs. B. Meyer, the librarian is aided by members of the Library Club, which she sponsors.

Mrs. Meyer aids D. Young in using the card catalog.

There will be no talking out in the library.

Indispensible Aids

The office ladies (L-R) Mrs. L. Roemke, and Mrs. A. Masenthin, are ready and willing to serve you. Mrs. Roemke is Mr. Birkman's secretary and bookkeeper of activities accounts. Mrs. Masenthin is the school bookkeeper.

Always at your service

Mr. D. Stein, the day-time custodian, busies himself fixing "odds and ends."

Mr. R. Merris, the night-time custodian, assists in keeping Concordia clean.

just Supp-hose?

The community's most popular entertainers.

Everybody likes Coach Koch's introductions.

The opposition found little to cheer about at the Butler game.

It's fake! she's really held by wires.

See you later, gator, when your legs are straighter.

Jumpin' Jahosofat!!

Bah! I don't like you neither.

one, one, two, two, three, three-hold it!

and then for the salad we'll have. . .

If we work this right we'll get the whole thing on Shock.

and the cow jumped over the moon. . .

when the Cadets come marching home again, Hurrah!, Hurrah!

One hair past a freckle the game will start.

Oh, go blow!

Please! that's ME you're laughing at.

Where parents may gossip--about US!
